My first play part. I played a Lady of the evening

A cleft in time, a wrinkle in our minds, a distant, different place called...Tech. Tech, the vortex from which swirled four short years of happiness, disappointment, joy, and elation. The center of the things we did, the places we saw, the people we knew...the memories.

Tech, you organized the big football game, conducted the valuable class, and took me on my first date. You brought the life-long friends together, taught the well-remembered lesson. Tech, you created the memories.

What you gave us is dear beyond words. Any volume would be a poor expression of what we have for life. And yet that is the purpose of this book, to say "Thanks Tech, for the memories."

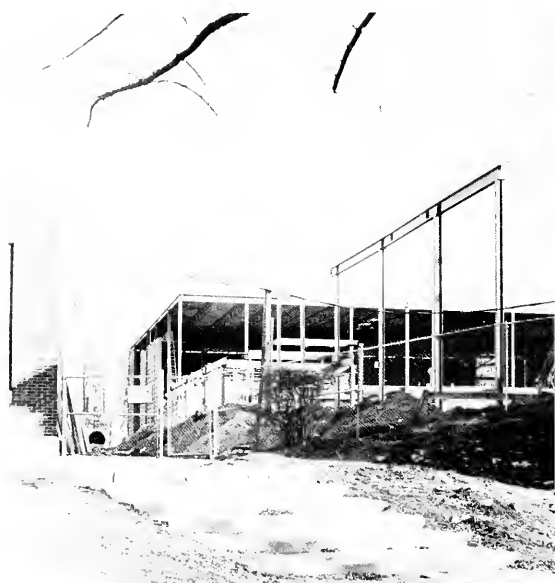

The Mall before the fight.

Remember way back when plays were given in the Forum? When the library was a hole in the Arsenal? When the girls gym smelled like the shop building it was in?

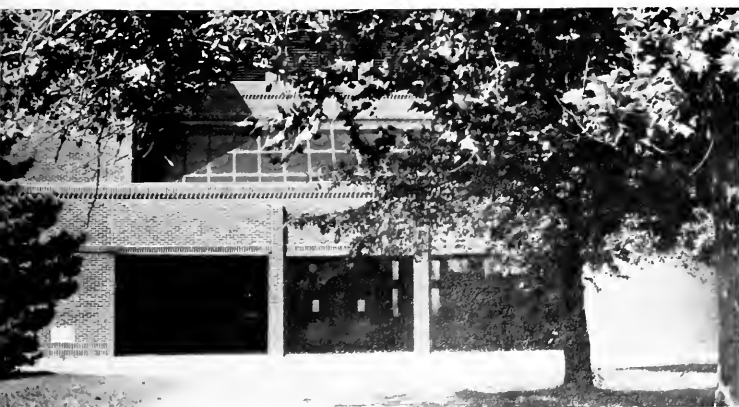

Well think hard because they are no more. Now plays are given in the state's most modern auditorium. Books are read in the city's most luxurious library. The ladies play in one of the most complete facilities around.

But Tech's campus gives us more: freedom. It is a place to bask in the sun on your lunch hour. It's a place to enjoy other's company. A place to hide from security guards. It's a place to remember.

Like an old friend, Tech has grown up with us.

... Of Our Campus, Then And Now.

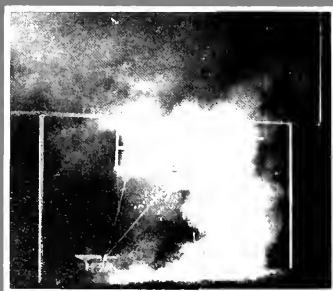

TOP CENTER—From a slope of mud in 1976 to the entrance to a city landmark, the Media Center's amphitheater is only one addition to the campus scene.

OUTER TOP—Once a grove of woods, then a statue of steel, and now the first swimming pool in the city schools.

BOTTOM—The Lone Hall shows through a skeleton that has since become the largest and best equipped sound stage in Indiana.

Titans Have A Good Knight

It certainly was a good Knight for the Titans. The minute the band began to play the National Anthem and the football players broke through the hoop, on their way to a winning game over the Arlington Knights 40-6.

At half time the homecoming King and Queen were crowned, they were 640's

Danny Quintanna and Tracy Paige. The extravagant part of the halftime show was the floats from each of the Senior roll rooms. It was a clean sweep for roll room 640 as their float won. This year's theme was, King Titans Will Dub the Knights Sir Losers.

The Cheerleaders await the coming of the football players.

Boom! The Titans are off to a great game.

The fireworks are a big part of Tech's homecoming.

The crowd roars as TITANS show up on the goal post.

Senior band and majorette members do a routing showing that the class of 80 has A TOUCH OF CLASS.

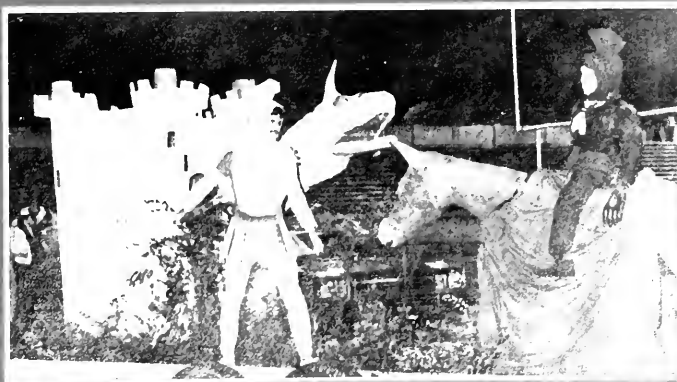

Homecoming King and Queen, Danny Quintanna and Tracy Paige.

Titans have Spirit.

640 is = 1

The winning float.

701 and Tony Bishop show it all off.

Friends—the nicest word in the English language!

When we look back on our high school days, the memories will be of friends.

Remembering the day we got caught “helping” each other on a test?

Then there was the time we lost our voices yelling at the game.

Lunch time was always full of fun—and sometimes surprises.

Teachers, we discovered, could be friends too—and human.

Fund raising projects were always fun—especially car washes. They were fun, that is, unless you were on the other end of the hose.

Yes, we'll remember friends.

Our friends made the games Great, win or lose.

Sweet sixteen and ain't love grand. Who could forget their first love?

Our buddies were friends forever, and even a squirt at a car wash can't change that.

... Of Our Friends

Friendship finds peak when you congratulate the other roll room winners.

Either we both pass or we both fail.

Now here's a nasty marshmallow. Play your cards and hit you when you lose.

If you survive the food, you'll enjoy the company.

'79 Musical Is Memorable

March 22, 23, 24 Tech became an intersection of Broadway as the music department gave its production of "Guys and Dolls". Eight weeks of practice became three days of performance as the hard-working cast crew, and orchestra unveiled their project for approval. Approved it was, as all three audiences clapped their dramatic satisfaction.

A true crowd-pleaser, the plot centered around two odd couples and a crap game. In need of some quick cash to run his crap game, small-time bookie Nathan Detroit (Kent Smith) places a small wager with super-gambler Sky Masterson (Jeff Rhoads). The bet? ... can Sky get a date with the puritanistic missionary Miss Sarah Brown (Tammy Marcum). Somehow Nathan loses the bet but still gets the money, and Sky and Sarah get married. But the success of Nathan's dice game can't save him from the matrimonious grasp of his fourteen-year fiancée, Miss Adelaide (Tina Stewart).

Despite meddlesome detectives, and misleading deceptions, both couples live happily ever after in the minds of a thoroughly pleased audience.

Jeff Rhoads belts Marcie Quintana; so why does Mike look dizzy.

Miss Adelaide and Nathan Detroit: voted least likely to be married.

A musical like this had to have a mission full of gangsters.

You find dolls like this in a playground, not a toy store.

Will Sarah Brown upgrade Sky Masterson before he degrades her?

"Duh, which way did he go? Which way did he go?"

Two marriages and a happy ending later, Misfortune gets four more victims.

Thanks For The Memories . . .

Thanks, Tech, for the memories of the many and varied experiences you have given us.

You introduced us to the sweet sound of applause in our first play. It was hard work and we were so-o-o scared—but—it was worth it.

You taught us discipline with our years in R.O.T.C. and pride in ourselves when we won our star.

You gave us a glimpse of the world of dance with the performance of the Indianapolis ballet.

We learned about rockets and airplanes; we climbed fences and we had an opportunity to meet the governor of our state.

If we never have any of these experiences again, we've had them once and maybe that's enough.

Dance me a story.

Governor Bowen meets Tech.

If this were bigger I could go to the moon.

... Of The Things We Did

The air-craft simulator is an experience available only at Tech.

As one of the many, each member of the battalion contributes to the winning of a blue star.

No gate is too strong for an infuriated Titan.

Prom A Night to Remember

Every night is special when it is the night of the prom. May 18 was the night of the prom. The evening begins as you walk through the doors of the ball room at the Hyatt Regency. The dim lighting and candle lit tables set the mood for dinner and dancing until 12:00 midnight. As the evening comes to a close each and every person will remember this one special night.

*I hope you're remembering me and Jack. Hope it's been a fun. Thanks you all

The purpose of this book is to explore the special spot on Earth where our four years will live forever. In remembering our High School days the child in all of us will stay young. And so, without further ado, let's get on with the memories . . .

Of Our Senior Year

Senior Council Overcomes Controversies

The Senior Government began its year rockily. After the strike delay, the council was plagued by the doubt of the senior class. The ballot taken for officer elections was challenged by much of the class. The names on the ballots were confusing. The confidence of some class members was lost after the Senior Office refused to vary the results.

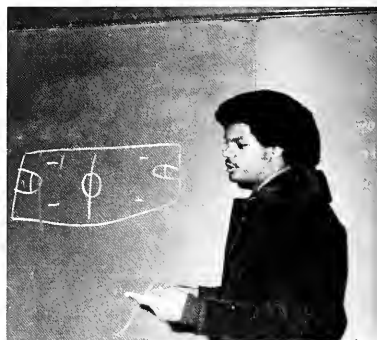

But the Class of 1980 was up to the task, and despite early obstacles the senior council did a remarkable job. Among the obstacles they planned were the Senior Activity Day, Sadie Hawkins Day, and half of the arrangements of the Prom.

The elections were held on a new arrangement this year, where officers were elected separately from the representatives.

Legionaires And Honor Students

Tech Legion is the Titan version of the National Honor Society. Merit points are awarded to students by their classroom teachers and activity sponsors. After seven semesters points are totalled and the top 10% of each class is inducted.

The top 10% of inductees are further honored as captains. The top boy and girl are dubbed co-commanders.

Tech Legion points out the finer parts of Tech. Its members have always excelled, if not by grades then by discipline and courtesy. Though academics is not a basis for points, many Legionaires have good grades.

Every year the PTA rewards those seniors who have maintained excellent marks through six semesters. The class of 1980 had one of the largest groups in recent years as 28 seniors maintained a 7.00 grade point average or better.

Honor Sweaters are one way in which Tech tries to promote academic excellence. As diploma requirements plummet, continuing efforts to reward good students become even more important.

Seniors Pull Their Own Weight

One Day each year seniors get together to match up their strength and endurance. They do this at the TUG-O-WAR. The six senior roll rooms compete for the trophy given out to the champs. The winner this year was 722. They pulled against 702, who put up a good fight. All the roll rooms should be congratulated for good sportsmanship.

Career Day is a time when seniors get together to learn about opportunities for their future. On career day representatives from several colleges came to Tech H.S. to tell students the opportunities their schools have to offer. Career Day was held in the boys' gym. There were approx. thirty college and seventy-five other occupations represented. We hope that through Career Day seniors were able to tie up their future plans.

What were you doing on the night of February 20, 1980? Well, if you were a SENIOR at Tech, you would have been trying to show off your Sadie Hawkins costume. At the basketball game, there was everything from fake officials (Tim Curry) to the Super-Chicken, (David Anderson) and from disco-destroyers, (Dan Stock) to Women Nuns, (Tom Going, Jim Godsey and Tim Koger).

Throughout the day, Costumes were judged and winners were announced during half-time of the game. Winners were as follows: Scoll Middleton, Steve Richardson, Mike Keller and the Taste Buds (Tony Bishop, Johnny Hutson, and Benjie Lyall).

Thanks For The Memories . . .

... Of Our Activities

Scattered Pictures Of The Way We Were

Scattered pictures of the way we were Scattered water-color memories of the way we were.

Scattered pictures of the smiles we left behind.

*Smiles we gave to one another for the way we were.
Can it be that it was all so simple then.*

*Changes time rewritten every line?
If we had the chance to do it all again.*

*Then we would we, could we?
Memories may be beautiful, and yet
What's too painful to remember
We simply choose to forget.
So it's the laughter we will remember*

Whenever we remember the way we were.

By John and Allen Bergman

If classes were the life of the campus, our activities were the soul. Through our endeavors in those groups we learned responsibility, initiative, and the involvement needed to excel in the world. Almost all of us have at some time or another worked with, participated in, or been affected by one of Tech's extra-curricular clubs. A little soul for Tech; a lot of soul for each of us.

Drama Club Acts Up A Little

This year the Drama Club had a special treat. One of the members Susan Maxwell, wrote and directed a one-act play entitled "Your Time is Up!" The play was a big success with the audience and the cast really enjoyed performing it! Susan we're proud of you. Keep up the good work! Also performed were the plays "Ask Aunt Fanny", directed by Susan Price, a take off of Happy Days but with one big difference, an all girl cast. And "Cops and Toddlers" directed by Eric Wright, a spin off of "Eight is Enough" which proved eight is about nine too many!!

Thespian Society Honors Actors, Actresses

Those dramatists who have gained enough Thespian points through acting are inducted into the International Thespian Society. The Society is an organization to honor and promote the performing arts for those who have excelled.

Acting is not the only way to gain points; stage hands and make-up personnel also gain points. Ten points are required for induction.

Initiation itself is something else. After the formal induction, the members haze the initiates by conducting impromptu scenes of such things as a firehydrant when a dog approaches. Refreshments top the day and the inductees go home dreaming of what to do next years new-comers.

Fall Play Strikes Gold!

Business seemed to be running as usual until an unknown stockholder makes an abrupt appearance on the scene. This "quaint" elderly lady named Laura Partridge, which was played by Portia Sholar, makes her entrance while asking some unnerving questions about the dubious procedures and salaries of the unscrupulous Board of Directors. In effort to silence Laura with her revealing questions they hire her to come and work with the company. As time passes, Laura's name is no longer lost among the millions of stockholders listed in the stockholders directory, instead it is her name which tops the daily agenda.

During her working days at General Products, Laura succeeds in upsetting all regular routine, including upsetting the Treasurer, played by Doug Bane, with her outlandish postage bills. The Chairman of the Board, played by Dan Stock, lived under the constant threat of a pay cut. And the other two Directors, Gwen Waterford and Richard Caudill, had other reasons to fear her inquisitiveness. The Board of Directors were not the only ones whose lifestyles were changed. It was Laura who prompted a romance between her secretary, played by Susan Price, and the deliveryman, played by Jeff Rhoads. Laura also meddles in the life of the famed Edward McKeever, played by Tom McCreary. She rescues him from his tension-filled life with the "d--- Senators", and brings him back to his old, presently filled, position at General Products. The threat the Directors face of losing their jobs to McKeever leaves them no other alternative than to fire the troublemaker Laura, but this remedial action is of no avail. Laura, who had won the hearts and proxy papers of the other stockholders, takes her proper place as head of the company. And she thus, fires the other directors.

The Solid Gold Cadillac written by Howard Teichmann and George S. Kaufman in 1953 was surely a "golden" fall play. Mrs. Alice Goodrum was the director along with Cynthia Anderson who was student director. On the whole, the play was lively, interesting and very enjoyable.

Silence Not Golden For Speech Team

Who at Tech High School in his right mind would crawl out of bed at 5 o'clock in the morning, rush over to the guard-house at Tech, then be transported to a neighboring school where he would then give a speech four times, one that he had been practicing fervently for the last several weeks? This description could only accurately depict a speech team member of Arsenal Technical High School. This dedication to an organization can be credited to the personal rewards attained at speech meets. These include self-confidence, self-discipline and the ability to speak profoundly, all of these traits are essential in later life.

Speech team, this year, in keeping up with tradition, has resumed its reputation for being an outstanding organization here at Tech. The team placed in 4 of the 5 meets attended to so far this year. This success is surprising since many of the team's prominent members graduated last year; however, new members have proved to be numerous and promising.

Speech team is an adventure, it is filled with variety. One meets new people as well as encounters many different types of speaking. Categories include Original Oratory, Extemporaneous, Oratorical Interpretation, Dramatic and Humorous Interpretation, Poetry, Prose Reading, Humorous and Dramatic duo, Impromptu, Radio and Television Broadcasting, and Discussion.

Outstanding Members Of Speech Team Rate NFL

Outstanding members of speech team are eligible to become members of the National Forensic League, a National Honor society. It is a privilege to be a member in such an honorable organization and it is the goal of every speech team member. NFL, (not to be confused with the National Football League) trains citizens to become more influential and thus, successful.

In order to become a member of this organization, one must earn twenty-five NFL points at speech contests or through speaking at certain service projects.

Picture Below—Geoffrey Davis gives his original oration on Speech Day. (Also a 1st place-winning speech)

If any one person were to be credited with the success of the speech team, it would have to be Mrs. Alice Goodrum, the speech coach and director. During the strike at the beginning of this year, she came in regularly and worked with the students in preparing for the upcoming speech meet. Examples of her dedication to the speech team are endless. Her devotion, hard work and effort, certainly reflect the success of the team.

Below: Mrs. Goodrum is seen examining some speech team material.

Head. In the past the shows were performed in the Form In Hall, but recently the shows have been held in the new H.H. Anderson Hall. This year the Melodayres undertook a difficult task—the revival of the Madrigal Dinner. Missing five weeks because of the teacher strike put pressure on the group, but determination and hard work won out. The end results were excellent, professional performances.

The dinner was held in the Colonel's Cupboard, Tech's new restaurant. The audience was taken back five hundred years to a simpler time when lords and ladies held candle lit feasts in honor of our "Lord Jesus" during the Yuletide season.

Starting a new tradition, or reviving one, was very special to the senior members. Lisa Aubrey, Tina Stewart, Mike Keller and Ken Booker. It made their last year one to remember. They will always be able to look back and say, "We were the first!"

Techoir is the main musical organ of Tech. The best singers in the school meet every day during fifth hour to sing their hearts out. Some of the members even take their lunch period for Techoir.

The Techoir sings a variety of styles of music including Pop, Spiritual, Religious and Classic. Mr. Prather is the director and Mrs. Kandis Brown accompanies the group.

Every year the Techoir is the main attraction at Christmas In The Round, in addition to performing at the spring concert.

Boy's Octet A Misnumber

Numerically, the Boy's Octet is a little off, but where music is concerned it is almost unmatched. Music contest was Octet's game. At district contest the group left much to be desired, but advanced to state regardless. State contest was a different story, as a near-perfect performance won the guy's a First Division Rating.

Director Paul Prather works with the fellows sixth hour on their format of Barbershop, Folk and Pop music. Melodayres Recreate Ancient Memory.

The Melodayres began a new tradition this year by performing the first Tech Madrigal Dinner. Set in the atmosphere of medieval times, the Dinner was the Melodayre Highlight.

Director Gary Conway works every sixth hour with the group. Sopranos are Janet Mumaw, Sarah Daniels, Margaret McCroy and Rosie Woods. Basses are Ken Booker, Jay Hood, Marcey Quintana, Mike Keller and Dewayne Hall. Alto was carried by Lisa Aubrey and Tina Stewart.

The Way We Were . . The Way Are . .

The Girls Ensemble is a very active singing group made up of 12 girls. They do many voluntary performances for salvation army, churches and student assemblies.

Tryouts are held each year for new members to replace the graduating seniors. The Girl's Ensemble sings mostly pop songs while directed by Mrs. Kandis Brown.

Young Singers Work Toward Techoir

Concert Club is the beginning choir classes for those who aspire to make the senior classes. The Concert Clubs are made up mostly of freshmen or sophomores. After learning the basics, members try out for Techoir. Almost all members of the advanced classes were once Club members.

Concert Clubs meet second hour for the girls and third for the boys. Mr. Paul Prather, who directs the advanced classes also watches the guys to measure their progress. Mrs. Brown, the Ensemble director, coaches the girl's group.

The Marching Band is a group that ranges from 50 to 60 people. The Band plus the Majorettes make up the half-time show during the home games. They have marched in two parades and are going to march in the 500 parade, a once in four year event.

Hopefully, the 500 parade will see the Marching Titans all dressed up in new uniforms. Members have been working hard to raise money to achieve this end.

The Marching Band is ably directed by Mr. Lee Barricklow.

The Majorettes On Parade

The Titanettes are a group of pretty girls who work very hard at what they do. They practice ninth hour and after school to try to keep their arms straight, their knees up and "smile". The Titanettes are sponsored by Miss Karen Nagy and are headed by three captains, Kathy Sabastian, Gayle Stackhouse and Stephanie Stephenson.

Because of the teachers strike the Titanettes have had a slow year of performances, they have performed in two parades and at two home football games.

Ring My Bell, Bell Choir

The 1979-80 Bell Choir has brightened many faces throughout this year. While playing for senior citizens, downtown hotels and the Education Center, they have had fun and entertained a great many people. Members are eleven seniors, one junior, and two sophomores. It looks like Mrs. Brown will be looking for new "ringing" talent next year.

Ron Nobles Director of the String Ensemble for the past ten years has received eight first and one second division rating while participating in the Indiana All State Music Contest. He's also director of the orchestras at Tech and School 101. The ensemble plays for many grade schools throughout the year, and recently they performed with the bell choir at School 101. Leadership, Discipline Keys To Probably the most under-rated class on campus, ROTC teaches personal qualities that can be used after high school. The two keys to success in ROTC are leadership and discipline. These are the two things which have made this year's battalion one of the best in recent years.

As if starting a new tradition, the battalion won first place at the Veteran's Day Parade for the second year in a row. To further prove their excellence, the ROTC battalion will attempt to earn another Honor Unit star at its Annual Formal Inspection, hopefully a gold star of Distinction.

This year's staff has been more functional than ever. All battalion activities ranging from weekly inspection to promotions have been handled by the student commanders. In addition, the Company commanders and their subordinates began practice early on their sequences.

Tech graduated eight new officers from Summercamp's Officers Candidate School, and an additional eight were commissioned by the fall Officers Promotion Board. Having proven themselves by discipline and leadership these young officers hope to become next year's commanders.

This year's Battalion Commander is C/ COL Daniel Stock. He will be succeeded by C/CPT Dennis Stokes, the Battalion Executive Officer.

The Tech Color Guards are one of the most visible activities on campus. In addition to performing at all home athletic events, both the boy's and the girl's color guards also do service to the flag on invitation. Both color guards owe thanks to the ROTC instructors who transport them to their assignments.

The Tech color guards have always displayed precision in drill and a much-needed pride in the national colors. The girl's unit was commanded by C/SSG Barbara Evans, while the guy's group was headed by C/CPT Reginald McDade.

Practice And Precision Make

Practice is what characterizes the boy's exhibition drill team and the rifle team best. Both groups worked during the teacher's strike to get ready for the season, and the fruits are already evident.

The boy's team has competed in one early drill meet and showed itself very well. Precision is their game, for that is what is needed to preserve their rifles and reputations. The exhibition drill team is the defending champ of the state-wide Fort Benjamin Harrison Drill Meet.

The rifle team lives or dies by its accuracy: this year they lived indeed. In both of their first two matches they have fired 200 points over last year's marks. Most of this is due to an outstanding crop of freshmen who have fired well above average for first-year cadets. Tech is the defending city champ this year.

Teams Perfect.

Left: C/CPT Dennis Stokes inspects C/SSG Keith Kilgore's weapon. As commander, Dennis Stokes must insure team members have perfect uniforms and excellent military knowledge, in addition to precise drill execution.

The girl's exhibition drill team is a different type of drill. Because they perform without weapons their drill sequence must be perfectly executed. The drill sequence is designed by the commander, and may contain many different steps and maneuvers. The more complex the sequence is, the more likely it is to win if presented correctly. The team members practice in the mornings before school almost every morning.

The Infantry Drill Regulation Team covers perhaps the greatest scope of military factors. This team has a standard sequence which all IDR teams use; because every team does the same things, the competition is to see who does it perfectly. The sharp snap of pivots and the synchronized crack of rifles is everything to the IDR team. In addition, the team is inspected at every drill meet. For this reason, IDR must have impeccable uniforms and complete mastery of military knowledge.

School Service, Teaching And

Tech can show its professionalism and earn recognition for the school. Tech's first-place march is usually done in 30° weather.

Tech's most important occasion of the year comes in the spring with its Annual Formal Inspection. This is the true test of the battalion's ability. Drill expertise, military knowledge and military courtesy are tried to determine if the unit is proficient. The best 10% of the schools become Honor Units with Distinction; this is the goal of your ROTC battalion.

Few realize the contributions that

ROTC makes to the school and its students. One of the most prominent is the Tech bandguard. The bandguard can be seen at any home athletic game. The members help maintain order at games and keep the floors and fields clear.

Though lacking the recognition it deserves, the flag detail is another of the ROTC service groups. The detail raises and strikes the national colors every morning in clear weather and evening after school. What few know is that the flag detail members often run through the rain to lower the flag if the conditions suddenly sour.

Left: Every cadet must teach a class on some subject. Here C/2LT Connie Sims delivers her lesson.

ROTC class is different because it requires that the student replace the instructor. Each cadet must prepare and deliver a class; the idea is to develop an ability to communicate effectively, as this is essential to good leadership. As cadets advance, they may be called upon to teach their class a subject taught in previous years, without the benefit of preparation. This promotes a working grasp of knowledge and a feeling of ease in front of crowds.

Leadership is further developed by placing cadets in positions of authority and giving them practice at commanding tactfully. Even marching a squad builds confidence and ability. To develop management ability, those who have excelled are trusted with running the battalion's business. Besides their work, staff members also train a cadet to replace them.

Lively Dances, Spicy Foods Highlight Spanish Club Year.

The Spanish Club is an active group at Tech. Many new friendships are made by means of sharing Spanish culture and ideas, traditional dances, and the helpful use of written and spoken Spanish.

The Spanish people, as well as the Spanish Club at Tech, are well known for their customary foods. The Spanish Club had its annual Tasting Bee as before in Stuart Hall. A variety of Mexican foods was offered for the cost of $.75. The menu consisted of churos, (a footlong donut-like pastry), tostadas and enchilada sauce, miniature tacos, tamales, pasteles, pasteles de boda (mexican wedding cakes), turon de platanos (banana fritters), leche quemada (carmel sauce) with fresh cut apples. Many people attended and enjoyed the variety of foods.

Several of the students helped out in preparing tacos as the taco fiesta was underway. Tacos were prepared as crispy tacos-regular shells, and soft tacos-tortilla shell. To attend the taco fiesta this year you had to have a reservation.

Elvira and Armando Yaciofano from Argentina visited Tech's campus to see what teenagers here do during their school day. They were in Indianapolis visiting Mrs. Cheryl Wyne, a Spanish teacher at Tech. They visited Tech because Mrs. Wyne wanted her pupils to know Elvira and Armando and their way of living. Elvira commented, "We like being with you and knowing first-hand about life in the United States."

Parle-tu Francais?-French Club Does

Several French Club members and students in a French class journeyed to Canada during Spring break, April 1-5. Before the students left to Canada, they learned to sing "O Canada," Canada's National Anthem. While in Canada the group learned the history of Musee du Fort, took a romantic ferry boat ride across the St. Lawrence River (over 250 feet deep); that afternoon they went to Ste.-Anne-de-Beaupre, Montmorency Falls, the Grande Hermine, and tasted hot bread fresh from the oven. While at the hotel, gourmet dinners were prepared. An evening sleigh ride through the city street of Old Quebec and the plains of Abraham was breathtaking for the group.

The German Club has been planning a trip to King's Island along with the other foreign language clubs.

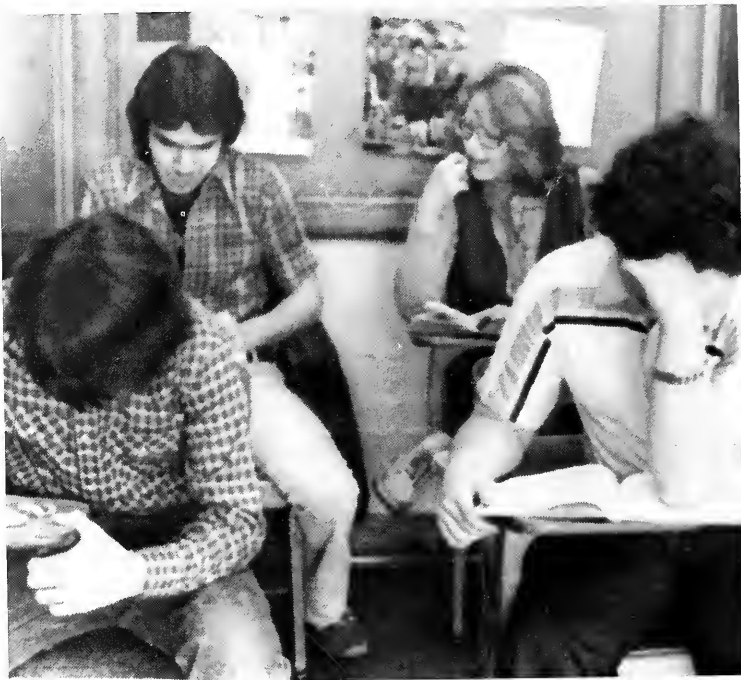

The German classes have studied the language and borne down heavily on German customs. Much time has been spent in the lab listening to conversations and verbal responses in German.

The German Club has been tasting a variety of foods. The dishes the students enjoy the most are German sausages and pastries.

Going Toga In Latin Club

Mrs. Fine's Latin classes seem to be active quite often in their classes. The students had a toga fashion show and a toga party afterwards. Latin classes have participated in several activities such as: songs and plays in Latin, GREEKO instead of BINGO, and Latin concentration.

Latin classes have also had Gladiator shows and chariot races. Latin speakers seem to really enjoy festivity and social functions.

Key Club Has The Key

Key Club is one of the most active clubs on campus. It's various functions include providing fireworks for Homecoming, painting campus trash cans, and raising money for various service oriented organizations.

One of it's major activities is the bell ringing for the Salvation Army. Members of the club volunteer their own free time to help raise money, so others who are less fortunate than they can have a Christmas too. This year Tech's Key Club raised more money for the Salvation Army than any other club in the state. Key Club has helped in the solution of many of today's problems.

Math Club Monopolizes Titans

The Mu Alpha Theta Math Club is the youngest club on campus, yet it's members total over 40. To be eligible for this club you must be enrolled in a math course and carry a B or above average. The MATH Club meets every Wednesday morning at 7:45 a.m.

The MATH Club is also a very active club. They have sponsored a monopoly tournament, a trip to King's Island, and numerous math contests. It looks to be one of the most promising clubs on campus.

Human Relations Improve Through Planning

The Human Relations Council consists of regular members and associate members. To be a regular member of the Human Relations Council one must: (1) Be a student of Tech, (2) attend meetings regularly, and (3) participate in activities of the Council. To become an associate member one must: (1) Be a student of Tech and (2) willingly participate as a committee member on special projects of the Council. Regular members must attend all meetings unless excused. Associate members should attend as many meetings as possible and keep in contact with members of the Council.

The Council is meeting with the Peer Counseling group and focusing on "the good and bad of each individual." The seniors have started meeting with freshmen to help solve some of the problems here at Tech that freshmen have.

Office Education Association Prepares Students For Office Occupations.

The vocational laws of the United States say that each vocational program must have its own youth organization. The Office Education Association (OEA) is the youth group for students in business and office education.

The Office Education Association was established in 1966 as a non-profit vocational student organization. It is a co-curricular activity that serves as an integral part of the educational program. Designed to develop leadership abilities, interest in the American business system, social awareness, and competencies in office occupations, OEA has served the needs of thousands of students from across the country in obtaining their occupational objectives.

As a co-curricular activity, OEA has the ability to enhance student participation in professional, civic, service, and social endeavors. Pride is taken in achieving the OEA goals: Self-improvement, Community understanding, Career development, Fund raising, Student recruitment, Public relations, Student cooperation, Safety and health.

Anthropology Club Seeks Beginning Of Man

Anthropology Club studies man, this year's Anthropology Club has been devoting itself to the study of mankind, and what has made us out to be. For some of us, that seems to be impossible to figure out, but Tech's anthropologists are trying very hard to come up with some of the answers while having fun.

WATS Tells It Like It Is

"On the Radio," the title of a recent song and the descriptive phrase for WATS. Every day during roll call they do their best to keep Tech students informed about what's at and around Tech. They read the daily bulletins and keep students and teachers up to date. WATS has done a fine job, and as the only high school radio station they're the best in the city.

The Student Affairs Organizations is the one group at Tech which is specifically to benefit Tech. Genealogy Digs Up Roots

Genealogy is the study of the descent of a person or family. That is exactly what Genealogy Club studies. Members of the club trace their family history back as far as Adam and Eve.

The club's sponsor is Mrs. Wilson, who has traced some of her family history and is a big help to the students. The club goes on frequent trips to libraries and the State House in hope that they will find more information about one of their families. Members have found many interesting facts about their family.

You never know. You might be related to George Washington.

Yearbook and Newspaper Capture

Ever wonder how the book you're reading came to be? Well there's a group of Titans who work in class and on their lunch periods to put together the Arsenal Cannon Yearbook. Yearbooking is like a few kinds of journalism.

Planning is the key ingredient. The yearbook begins the spring of the preceeding year as the staff chooses a theme, layout styles, and a standard operating procedure. Pages are sent to the publisher in groups by certain deadlines. The rough drafts come back for correction and the final touches are applied. Then the book goes to press.

Sponsor Mrs. Joan Brown works with the industrious staff in the afternoon and often after school and on weekends. Some staff members worked four days over Christmas vacation.

The Arsenal Cannon newspaper is the major news organ at Tech. Though technically a part of the English Dept., newspaper is like no ordinary class.

Like a professional newspaper, staff members must do their own interviews, write their own stories, take their own pictures, and layout their own pages. The paper is published on a bi-weekly basis, so deadlines are more lengthy, but the Cannon shows professionalism in that it can get stories late-breaking and get them to their audience hot-off-the-press.

Mr. C. T. Tresslar is the Newspaper sponsor and works during the afternoon periods with the staff. Anthony Adair was this years Editor-in-Chief.

Stage Craft Makes The Show

The Stagecraft Club was very busy this year with a variety of activities including constructing sets for drama club and the spring musical, silk screening T-shirts and planning a "Muppet Show". The club, which is sponsored by Ray Browne of the art department, had about twenty active members this year. Officers for this year were Clarence Lancaster, President; Harvey Lancaster, Vice-President; and Marel L. Hayes, Secretary-Treasurer. The club meets every Thursday in Room 704 at 3:30 p.m. besides constructing sets and props for the various theatrical performances at Tech, the members silk screened club shirts with the club design on the front, and then designed their own logo for their names on the back of the shirts. They also made plans to construct a puppet stage and designed their own "Muppets". The club hopes to work up an act and maybe take the show on the road and perform for some children's hospitals and day care centers.

Varsity Finishes Second In Sectional!!!

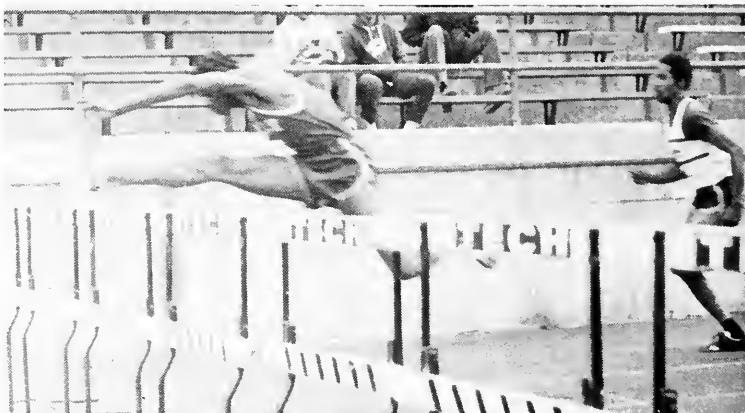

Individual city champions were Antonio Rudolph in the 100, Ronnie Robinson in the shot put, and Martin Jones in the discus.

This years squad will be the most inexperienced in years with only 5 returning lettermen: Ronnie Robinson (Shotput), Martin Jones (Discus), Westel Phelps (Sprints), and Steve Manis (Distance).

The team will compete in six indoor meets at Indiana University beginning January 26th. The outdoor season begins with a meet at Attucks on March 26th.

This years team is not expected to have the power of teams over the past few seasons, but if some of the young athletes develop as expected, we should have a respectable season.

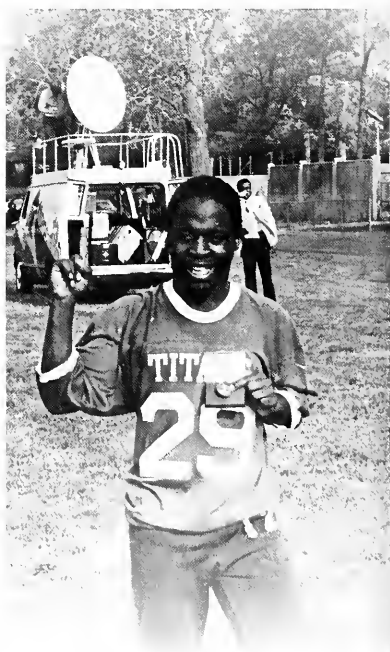

The 1979 track team finished the season with a dual meet record of 6 wins and 1 loss. They finished 2nd in the Sectional, and 3rd in the Regional. There was 1 school record broken last season, and that was by Michael Shelton in the high jump. Michael jumped 6'9" to break his old record of 6'7". Johnny Roberts was the only member of the team to place in the state meet, with a 5th place finish in the high hurdles.

Frosh Track Team Shares City Title!!

The frosh track team had a good season this past spring, they tied with John Marshall High School for the city title. The team had three city champions, they were: Robert Fox (shot put), Aaron King (discus), and Lewis Bonds (high jump). Coach Robinson has worked hard with these three young men, and the whole team. The spirit was high last year, and so were the scores. Outstanding members of varsity calibre are the three city champs, Jesse Evans, Raymond Quinterro, Scott Rush. Joe Wilson, and Calvin Robinson. Good job and good luck!

Girl's Track Win City, And Fourth In State

Titans preparing for future meets.

This year was very exciting for girl runners. Not only did they win the city for the fourth year straight, but finished fourth in the state. They also placed two girls in the state finals. Linda Dowdy finished 2nd in the high hurdles while Dalphia Laland finished 5th respectfully.

Coached under Susan Jahnke and Arnald Layman, the girls won four trophies throughout the very exciting year. Winning the North Central and Gary Invitational, they also were the 1979 Regional Champs. Congratulations to both coaches and the 1979 girls track team.

Varsity Baseball

1979 Pretty Good

Look 8-11

Reserve player, Randy Ochsenrider, is ready for a the driver.

The varsity had one of the most disciplined teams in their history. Although their record shows a 8-11 year; they played much better. Losing a few ball-games late was the difference in the standings. They also managed to reach the second round of both the city and the state sectionals losing the games by close margins. Terance Chaney was the man with the hot bat this year finishing with a .667 batting average. During the first 5 ball games he was 19-20 (950). Tom Curry and Joe Matteney supplied the powered pitching game. Joe also threw 2 no-hitters while Tom managed a couple of 1 and 2 hit games. With the returning players this year (4) the varsity will be a rebuilding year.

Row 1: Joe Mathaany, Bob Haney, Jim Moses, William Thomas Curry, Jr., Jan Roads, Bill Carlason, Steve Farnadas.

Row 2: Ivan Mormenen, Joe Widsey, Fred Williamson, Mark Pettigrew, Ron Cooper, Ron May, Tarance Changy.

Reserve Baseball Winning More 5-11

This years Reserve baseball team finished the season at 5-11. They have a great deal of talent, with a promising year in 1980 with a lot of players moving to varsity. One of the biggest problems for the team was getting behind early, but key hits and good fielding were factors in the wins that were accomplished.

Jeff Rhoads and Randy Ochsenrider (who connected for 4 home runs) provided the backbone of this hitting club. Tim Curry and Darrell Woodruff shared honors for highest batting average with an outstanding .416. Reserve hurlers, Craig Messenger and Mark Morris did an excellent job for this years Titans.

The team definitely has a promising future and every fan can expect a fun and winning season.

Reserve player Craig Messenger looks to steal second.

After a hard and discouraging year, the freshmen baseball team could only fork out a record of 1 win and 7 losses. The team's record did not do total justice to the quality of the team. Pitcher Robert Poteet said, "The team had loads of talent but we just lost some close games."

Outstanding players on last years squad included first baseman Robert Covert and short stop Jeff Thomas.

Better Luck Next Year

Girl's Tennis Team Has Off Year

Have you ever seen beautiful young ladies at Brookside, running around, trying to hit a yellow ball? Well, you have just met our Girls Tennis Team!!! With not a very impressive record, (3-8) the girls did show some talent in swinging a racket.

Highlights during the season were when Moncia Brooks went two rounds in the City and Carol James went three rounds in the Sectionals. With only two starters gone, the Girls Tennis Team should improve greatly this year.

Boys Have Rough Season In Tennis 4-9

With the Boy's Tennis season already over, they finished at 4-9. Last season they finished with a 11-4 record. An almost complete opposite season from the one in 1978.

The teams that the Titans did beat were Shortridge, Northwest, Ritter, and Broad Ripple. Yet the total record doesn't represent the skill of the tennis team. Four of their losses came with a score of 3-2. The tennis men finished eighth in the city. But they had a short life in the Sectional when they lost the sectional champs to Mooresville. Martin Jones was voted the MVP. He was a singles player, the number one singles player, and had a record of 7 wins and 6 losses.

This year's golf team showed improvement, due to the fact that the team had a lack of experience and was limited to underclassmen.

Coach Kleine stressed that Tech, being an inner-city school the atmosphere is not right for golf. This makes things difficult in forming a strong team.

The golf team got off to a slow start, but things changed after the Arlington Invitational, by winning eight out of the last ten matches. The team's season record was thirteen and twenty.

Returning lettermen were Mike Shruba and Denis Menard.

Homecoming Win Highlights Varsity Season

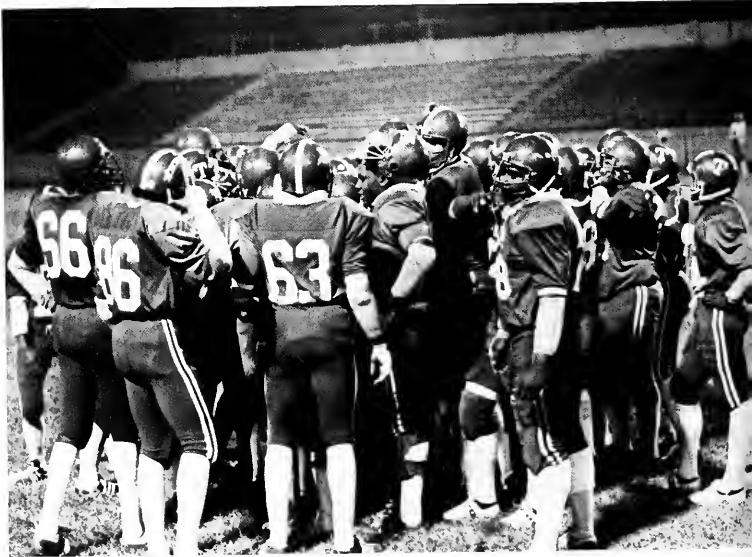

TOP: Where the *!# + did the ball go!

MIDDLE: O.K., here we go again guy!

The Varsity Football Team won their homecoming for the second year in a row. Jeff Davis, (QB) and Isador Cosby, (FB) produced exciting plays throughout the entire season. With the most exciting game being at North Central, Tech almost caused North Central Panthers to be knocked out of the playoffs. Tech did make its homecoming more delightful with a 40-6 victory over tired and beaten Arlington, along with its amazing floats.

Note: Congratulations to 640 for having this years "Best Homecoming Float". With players returning from this year (4-6), Tech will be a tough competitor for next years city teams. Good Luck Titans.

The Reserve Football Team this year, losing one less game than varsity, (4-5) will provide young, enthusiastic players for varsity team next year. Each player kept the winning attitude throughout the entire season, with the help from their coach, F. Knue.

Lead by Alan Nelson, (QB) the Reserve were better than four of their opponents this year. Congratulations Reserves.

Freshman Football Has A Hard Time Finding The End Zone

With a disastrous season of 1-7, the Freshmen will have to work together next year to achieve a better record for the reserve team.

The lack of will and incentive to play could easily have been the reason of a poor season. Hopefully, the incoming freshmen will produce a better season.

Varsity Cross Country Has Tough Year

The 1979 cross country team finished with a dual meet record of 3—wins and 7 —losses. They finished 7th out of 15 teams in the city meet, and 6th out of 12 teams in the sectionals.

This years squad was led by senior Steve Manis, who was captain of the team. Steve advanced to the semi-state meet, but fell just short of his goal to place in the state meet.

Letter winners on this years team, in addition to Manis, were: Syraleigh Coleman—Jr., Barry Napier—Sr., Johnny Hutson—Sr., Gerold Brooks—Jr., Ben Vorhees—Jr., and Bryan Allen—So.

Wrestling Needs More Support

'79 State Champion Wrestling team finished the year with a 10-3 record. Despite this impressive record, the team feels it doesn't get the support it deserves from the Tech students. Coach John Hurrle feels there is a lack of support in most sports here.

According to Coach Hurrle, Tech has a fine team and one of the best wrestlers in the state, Greg Levell.

Tech also took second in the City Tourney and third in the Carmel Invitational.

Greg Levell; A State Champion

This year's Wrestling Team, even though they may not be able to retain their state championship title for their overall performance, has a great deal of talent. One of the bright spots has to be Greg Levell.

Greg Level is undefeated and the winner of the state championship, and runner up last year in his weight class 98 lbs. The amazing thing about Greg is that he has only been defeated once in his entire varsity wrestling career.

Greg is a senior, the only bad thing about him. He will leave Tech and go on to bigger and better things.

The other wrestlers are already waiting in line to fill the gap, so don't worry Greg. Good going and much success in the future.

Reserves are not known around school as well as Freshmen or Varsity, but this years team changes that theme.

Reserve is a step above Freshmen and a step below Varsity. Boys wrestle on Reserve until Coach Herle feels they are ready. Then they go on to Varsity, but this years team could go on Varsity already.

Frosh Wrestlers Have Good Year

Wrestling at Tech is a sport with a variety of participants, varsity working constantly to better their records, reserve trying to become varsity. The most interesting of all the wrestling groups is freshman wrestling.

The freshman team is still young and they have plenty of time to become better stronger and more successful. But already they are a group of very talented wrestlers.

Top: Freshmen at practice.

Manual Win Highlights Varsity Season

"Losers can't be winners and neither can the Tech Varsity Basketball Team" the opinion of most of the city's spoofs writers. This is not true as the varsity team proved when they defeated one of the city's highest ranked teams, Manual 52-51.

Despite their unimpressive record, Tech's team does have talent. Most of the games we lost were much closer and better than the record indicated. One of Tech's players has been consistently among the city's top scorers, Bryan Johnson. Jerard Lorick has been cited as one the city's best basketball players.

The record wasn't great in everyone's eyes but there were valid reasons among them, the constant changing of the starting line-up.

Maybe next year . . .

Fourth Time Lucky, an old cliché. But the Tech Girls Basketball Team has proven that statement is not only true, but after the fourth time you can go on winning. For the fourth straight time they have captured the City Championship Crown.

In the sectional Play-offs Tech was billed as the underdog, due to the loss of our 6'4" forward. They proved everyone wrong by not just winning one or two games but by taking the sectional title.

The Tech team has accomplished these feats with the help of such standouts as Karen Woodard, Canadra Goodall, Miranda Bryant, and the rest of our talented team. Despite the odds they managed to win and hopefully will be able to do it again next year, good luck.

Tech Swimmers Make Big Splash

Coming off a remarkable second season, with one city title under the old belt, the Tech Swim Team proved it could muster an excellent encore.

Starting the season with a new coach and plenty of hope, they wasted no time getting down to work. On a balmy Oct. 15, the team made their debut at practice, one worthwhile. Most swimmers, who had not swum since last season, made a habit of huffing and puffing after each stroke. After a month of practice, they were ready for their first meet against the Howe Hornets. As sure as the sun rising, the Titans were going to break some records, and they did. They won that meet and didn't stop winning until their loss to a tough Beech Grove Club 84-81, a menial four point margin.

At the end of the season, the Titans boasted a record of 11-5.

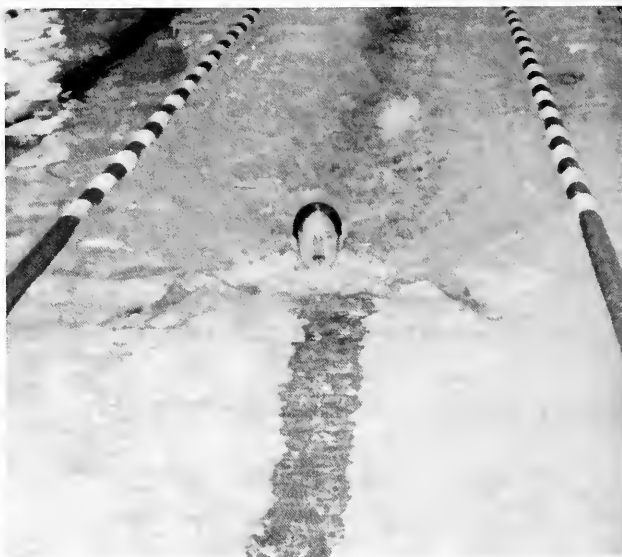

Outstanding senior Roger DeBruler, was the team's most valuable swimmer. Roger owns a number of school records. Junior Nolan Jenkins also had an excellent season, placing tenth in the Perry sectionals, this was also the team standing.

The 1979 Bumpers, Setters And Spikers, Giving Their All

Starting off on the wrong foot for 1979, the Varsity Volleyball Team ended up with a not so hot season.

8 wins and 11 losses. Although the record is not enough to speak of, the team is young, losing only "2" seniors: T. Daniles, M. Rouldoph. Each girl put out all effort and came out with a letter. Next year it looks even better for our girls. Look out Indiana cause here comes a city crown!

Reserve Volleyball Showing Their Stuff

Having an off season, the Reserve volleyball Team put their record at a 5 win, 10 loss standing. One has to admit this team has potentials, and next year it's sure to pay off. The team had a lot going for it, but somehow it just wasn't quite enough—this time!

Of What We Learned

We Baste, Barber, And Beautify In

Below Right: Cosmetology class teaches the use of make-up. Student Cassandra Bell performs some facial art on Marlisa Wadkins.

Below: Commercial foods class functions as a real restaurant. Here a student prepares food for a faculty.

Consumer Trades

Left: Cleaning clothes is more than just pressing and washing. Here Dawn Younger prepares a pair of pants to be dry-cleaned.

Far Bottom: Just one of the valuable consumer trades, dry-cleaning also provides Titans with a useful service at an inexpensive price. Here Antonio Ball and Larnell Cox work during class.

Bottom: Commercial Foods teaches the culinary arts used in the trade. This student works on just this.

Consumer Trades is one of the most beneficial departments here at Tech. Its curriculum prepares students to fill good jobs after high school. Classes include barbering, cosmetology, dry-cleaning, commercial foods, and the Model Restaurant.

Bookwork is not the tool of learning in these classes. The Titans actually do what they would be expected to do in business. Every noon the model restaurant prepares food for sale to faculty members. Dry-cleaning class does work for Tech students. Barbering, and cosmetology perform their services too, and at a reduced price.

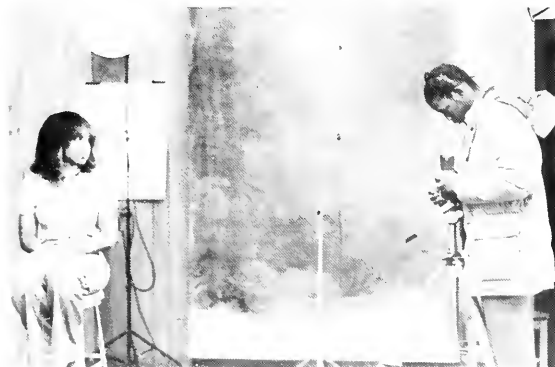

Classes meet in the morning for advanced students and in the afternoon for beginners. Transfer students also attend the consumer trades, and may also earn vocational certificates.

Art Class The Outlet Of Creative Titans

One of the more diverse departments on campus is the Art Department. Classes are many and range from the commercial to the pure appreciation of art. Jewelry and Metal Craft, Craft Design, and Exploratory Art are a few of the classes which teach the various skills that true artisans love.

Photography and Commercial Art are a group which prepare the student to practice his craft in the professional world. Commercial Art provides the knowledge of how to use art in advertising and other marketing means. Photography, which offers advanced courses, teaches both the basics and the tricks necessary to journalistic or commercial endeavors.

But perhaps most of all, Art offers a life-long hobby, an enjoyable pastime, and a much-needed form of expression.

Top: Mr. Brown instructs the Stagecraft class. Stagecraft benefits the kids and the school by preparing for productions.

English Required But Still Desired

Left: No, Sam Greene isn't a soldier in love; he's a student in Performing Theater Arts. His dramatics are watched closely by his classmates.

The most important class offered here at Tech is English. Tech has a wide variety of English classes; there is something here for everyone. The freshmen coming into Tech are required to take English 1 and 2. As a student here at Tech you are required to take six credits in English, but most students have a lot of fun taking English. We also have a wide variety of English teachers, one for every kind of student and class. Tech has one of the largest English departments in the city. Tech has some very odd English classes that are very beneficial for the students that take them. One of them is Social Protest and Satire, taught by either Mr. Tackas or Mrs. McBride. The class teaches you to spread your opinion and not to be ashamed of it. As you can well see we have a lot to offer here at Tech and we are proud of it.

Construction Trades Build Future

Below: Decorating and Painting teaches the skills of house painting. Mr. Hylton instructs his students in art.

Far Right: Cabinet making is an almost extinct skill. Tech's class helps keep the trade alive. Using a saw carefully is a must.

Unique to Tech is its construction trades department. Offering training comparable to that of the industry, construction trades prepare Titans for future careers like no other school can. Classes include Cabinet Making, House Construction, Masonry, and Painting.

Instruction here is done "hands on." Students actually build houses, lay concrete, construct furniture, and paint interiors. In fact, Tech students actually built and finished a house to be sold. All work was done by the Titan builders except the wiring.

Most classes meet first, second, and third hour for advanced students. Beginning classes meet during seventh, eighth, and ninth. Some students in construction trades aren't Titans at all but transfer to Tech because it is a magnet school. For those students who earn vocational certificates the placement rate is high.

Left: Darin Granger takes time out from his lathe to smile at the camera. Darn takes cabinet making 7th, 8th, and 9th.

Below: James Raia makes a metal framework. He uses a sandblasting gun to accomplish his task.

Left: Tony Johnson practices a dying art. His finished cabinet will be as good as any one bought in a store.

To Miss Eads
 I really like having you for an English teacher this year. You can teach a good class. I think so at times. I have learned alot in your class this semester, more than I did in my English classes in the past. And this class has been hard at times and easy at times.
 Although its been fun having you for a teacher.
